Plans, Analysis and Integration Office (PAIO)

New IMCOM Service Culture Initiative (SCI)

LTG Dahl, IMCOM Commander recently published a letter to the field regarding a new IMCOM initiative, referred to as a Service Culture Initiative (SCI).

Within his letter, he highlights that the Army faces an environment with fewer resources even while readiness requirements remain constant. Because of this, Army Leadership tasked all major commands to examine requirements, establish clear priorities and reduce funding and manpower. Resources re-purposed by this effort will be used to "buy back" critical areas associated with maintaining Army readiness. Therefore, IMCOM can no longer provide the same level of service that our customers have come to expect and this trickles down to the Garrisons. We must prioritize and deliver the right services, where the need is the greatest, to maximize the value of every dollar we spend.

The Garrison is currently working on a plan to communicate this change to our constituents across the installation so they understand what is occurring and why. This plan will include a way to actively communicate and manage expectations for both those that provide services, as well as those that receive our services.

In accordance with the IMCOM Commander's intent, the Garrison focus will be to do less with less so we can concentrate on the most critical services we deliver. As we transform and fine-tune programs, the manner in which we deliver our services becomes even more important and will demand creativity, initiative, and agility of all our IMCOM professionals.

LTG Dauhler also highlights the following in his letter to the workforce:

- In conjunction with these changes, it is vital that we remain focused on our customers; therefore, IMCOM is embarking on this initiative designed to enhance the level of customer service and inculcate a culture (defined as shared value) of service excellence within all facets of the Command - The Service Culture Initiative. The foundation of this initiative is leader engagement. Leaders must be open, honest, and straightforward in communication, especially during periods of change. Through leader and community engagements, all echelons of IMCOM will use every available opportunity to inform and educate our employees, our customers, and the communities we serve about the changing environment and how IMCOM will continue to support them.

- Built upon the premise that excellence in customer service is a by-product of how we treat our employees, the Service Culture Initiative establishes an environment where employees have engaged and caring leaders, feel valued and respected, possess a sense of belonging or loyalty to the organization, and treats each other with dignity and respect. It is proven that in such an environment, employees are likely to have a positive attitude and enjoy working in the organization. This positive attitude is then "passed forward" to each other and those we support.

Fort Hood Community Information

- This initiative has been under development for more than two years and recent surveys indicate we need it. This is a long-term commitment to improving how we treat our IMCOM team members and improve ourselves as an organization. Soon, we will publish an OPORD with details of the Service Culture Initiative. The key components are:

- Enhancing team member sense of belonging to IMCOM.
- Ensuring our leaders are engaged with our team members, our customers and the communities they serve.
- Ensuring our new team members are appropriately welcomed, oriented, trained, and prepared to become an impactful member of the IMCOM Team.
- Ensuring our team members feel valued, respected and appreciated.

- The Service Culture Initiative is designed to ensure our employees are prepared for and empowered to deliver services in the best possible manner given available resources. The initiative also ensures that those we support understand and acknowledge IMCOM's commitment to serving them and our contribution to Army readiness.

LTG Dauhl's closing statement in his letter was: "We must always keep in mind that IMCOM's primary mission is to serve and support our Army's Rugged Professionals - those Soldiers who may have to go into harm's way."

IMCOMs slogan is: "We are the Army's Home - Serving the Rugged Professional!"

Road Closure:

As of January 1, 2017, the Old Copperas Cove Road Gate (ACP 14) will be closed. Traffic throughput levels did not necessitate the continued operation of this gate. The DES continues to analyze traffic throughput and will make adjustments as necessary.

• • •

Effective Tuesday, September 1, 2015, the installation access processes changed as follows:

- All Soldiers, Family Members, DoD Civilians, Retirees and any other DoD identification card holder will show their DoD ID at the gate for entrance to the installation. Passengers (with proper ID) can be escorted onto the installation.
- Customers who routinely access Fort Hood can get an extended access pass at the visitor center, i.e. contractors, school teachers, bank workers, but will not be able to escort other visitors. These customers can get a bulk issue of passes for their employees. Business owners or management staff will submit a memo to DES with employee(s) name(s), date of birth, driver's license number / state ID and last 4 of social security number.
- All non-DoD drivers and passengers are required to report to the Visitors Welcome Center to obtain an installation access pass. Children under 17 years of age may be vouched for by an adult.
- The Visitors Welcome Center is open 24 hours per day.
- There is no change to the firearms registration program. All firearms must be registered prior to transporting onto Fort Hood. Firearms registration can be completed at the Visitors Welcome Center or the Military Police station on 58th and Battalion Avenue.

Army Emergency Relief \(AER\)

Did You Know...

...The Army's Annual AER Campaign, conducted each Spring, remains distinct from the Combined Federal Campaign for an important reason?

The Combined Federal Campaign charges all organizations under its campaign umbrella an administrative fee of more than 10% of their total collection. Other reasons: The two-fold purpose of not only collecting funds for AER, but also educating Soldiers and Families on the assistance that AER can provide. The strong selling point that the Army takes care of its own.

...Army Emergency Relief can accept contributions through its web site?

AER's web site had more than 155,000 unique visits in 2014. After "landing" on our site, you can hit "Donate Now" and follow the prompts permitting you to make a one-time or recurring credit card donation. When talking with your friends outside of Army circles, encourage them to learn more about our organization by visiting our web site. Who knows, they might just be added to our growing list of supporters.

...Money for college could be as close as your computer! Army Emergency Relief helped more than 3600 eligible students pursue their academic goals by providing $10 million to fund education scholarships to 4,614 Children and Spouses of Soldiers in 2014. AER has two programs to provide financial assistance to help eligible family members pursue higher education. Don't rule out college before contacting us! The application period is from January 2nd to May 1st.

When you need help, call ACS Financial Readiness Branch at (254) 288-6330 or visit Army Emergency Relief in the Rivers Building, Bldg. 121 or in the Resiliency Campus, Bldg. 12020, Suite 400.

Army Family Action Plan (AFAP) Issue Submission

AFAP is the process in which we, the Army Family, have the opportunity to tell our leadership what is working well in the Army, what isn't, and what we think will fix the issue. AFAP issues can be submitted to any AFAP Issue Submission box (located at various locations on post); at Lane Volunteer Center; Army Community Service; Oveta Culp Hobby Soldier & Family Readiness Center (OCHSFRC); faxed to (254) 288-3650, emailed to usarmy.hood.imcom-fmwrc.list.ACS-AFAP@mail.mil, or submitted online through www.myarmyonesource.com (AFAP Issue Management System).
